Models for Educational Struggle and Curriculum Development

Published in: Proceedings of the Arab-Jewish Facilitator Conference, Nazareth (1989)

STANDARD CITATION (APA)

Lemish, P. (1989). Models for educational struggle and curriculum development. Arab-Jewish Facilitator Conference, Nazareth.

ABSTRACT & RESEARCH OVERVIEW

Presents theoretical frameworks and field-tested curriculum designs for intergroup encounter facilitators working on Jewish-Arab joint education under conditions of asymmetric power.

KEY FINDINGS & THEORETICAL PRAXIS

Outlines conditions for symmetry in dialogue, power-control evaluation, and curriculum models that move beyond superficial coexistence toward structural equality and joint civic action.

Archival record preserved in the Dr. Peter Lemish Living Digital Archive.
Online Repository: https://peter-lemish-archive.vercel.app • Contact: archive@peterlemish.org