CURRICULUM VITAE

Dr. Peter Lemish

Critical Media Scholar • Peace Educator • Community Organizer • Higher Education Academic Leader

1. ACADEMIC EDUCATION & CREDENTIALS

Ph.D. in Journalism & Mass Communication	Doctoral dissertation focused on qualitative cultural inquiry and media epistemology.
M.A. & B.A. Degrees in Social Sciences & Communication	Graduate and undergraduate training in journalism, sociology, and critical educational theory in the United States.

2. PRIMARY ACADEMIC & INSTITUTIONAL APPOINTMENTS

Department Chair & Academic Director	Led academic departments, interdisciplinary curricula, and academic direction across higher education colleges in Israel (including Beit Berl College and Sapir Academic College).
Senior Researcher & Faculty Fellow	Global Media Research Center (GMRC), Southern Illinois University Carbondale (SIUC, 2012–2016). Directed regional civic engagement, 'Imagining Geographies', and 'Civic Soul Media'.
Senior Lecturer & Curriculum Developer	Pioneered courses and national seminars in Media Literacy, Peace Education, Qualitative Research Methods, and Critical Pedagogy.

3. CORE RESEARCH PILLARS & THEORETICAL CONTRIBUTIONS

• The Transgressive Posture: Formulating an ontological Heideggerian framework for crossing socio-political taboos and institutional boundaries in intractable conflicts, particularly the Israeli-Arab conflict.

• Critical Pedagogy & Social Problems: Exposing silenced social issues, power-control dynamics, and bureaucratic apathy through problem-posing pedagogy (with Dvora Feldash).

• Media Literacy & Democratic Praxis: Investigating national curriculum reforms, children's processing of conflict news, and constructive media framing across educational frameworks.

• Civic Action & Intercultural Musicking: Documenting transcultural collaborations, civil society media leadership, and community justice initiatives across Israel, Northern Ireland, and North America.

4. SELECTED PEER-REVIEWED PUBLICATIONS

• Lemish, P. (2003). Civic and citizenship education in Israel. Cambridge Journal of Education, 33(1), 53–72.

• Lemish, P. (2007). Developing children's understanding of conflict resolution through quality television. In D. Lemish, M. Götz, & B. Dervin (Eds.), Children and Media in Times of War and Conflict (pp. 215–236). Hampton Press.

• Lemish, P. (2011). The Transgressive Posture: Insights from Nano Discourse into the Ontology of Being a Transgressor. Academic Quarter, 3, 17–31.

• Lemish, P., Lemish, N., Sabet, P., & Deutsch, D. (2017). 'In Toronto, Iranians and Israelis Make Music, Not War': Political Communication via Engaged Musicking. In Music as a Platform for Political Communication (pp. 127–148). IGI Global.

• Lemish, P., & Lemish, D. (2001/2018). A much debated consensus: Media literacy in Israel. In Media Literacy Around the World (pp. 213–228).

• Lemish, P., & Caringer, K. (2012). The civil society organization media manager as critical communicator. Nordicom Review, 33(Special Issue), 189–203.

• Lemish, P., & Feldash, D. (1997). Exposing social problems by means of critical pedagogy. Radical Teacher / Studies in Education, 129–140.

• Lemish, P. (1988). Evaluation reflection power-control and the praxis orientation to school-based program development. Studies in Educational Evaluation, 14(3), 341–359.

• Lemish, P. (1981). Hanukah bush: The Jewish experience in America. Theory into Practice, 20(1), 26–34.